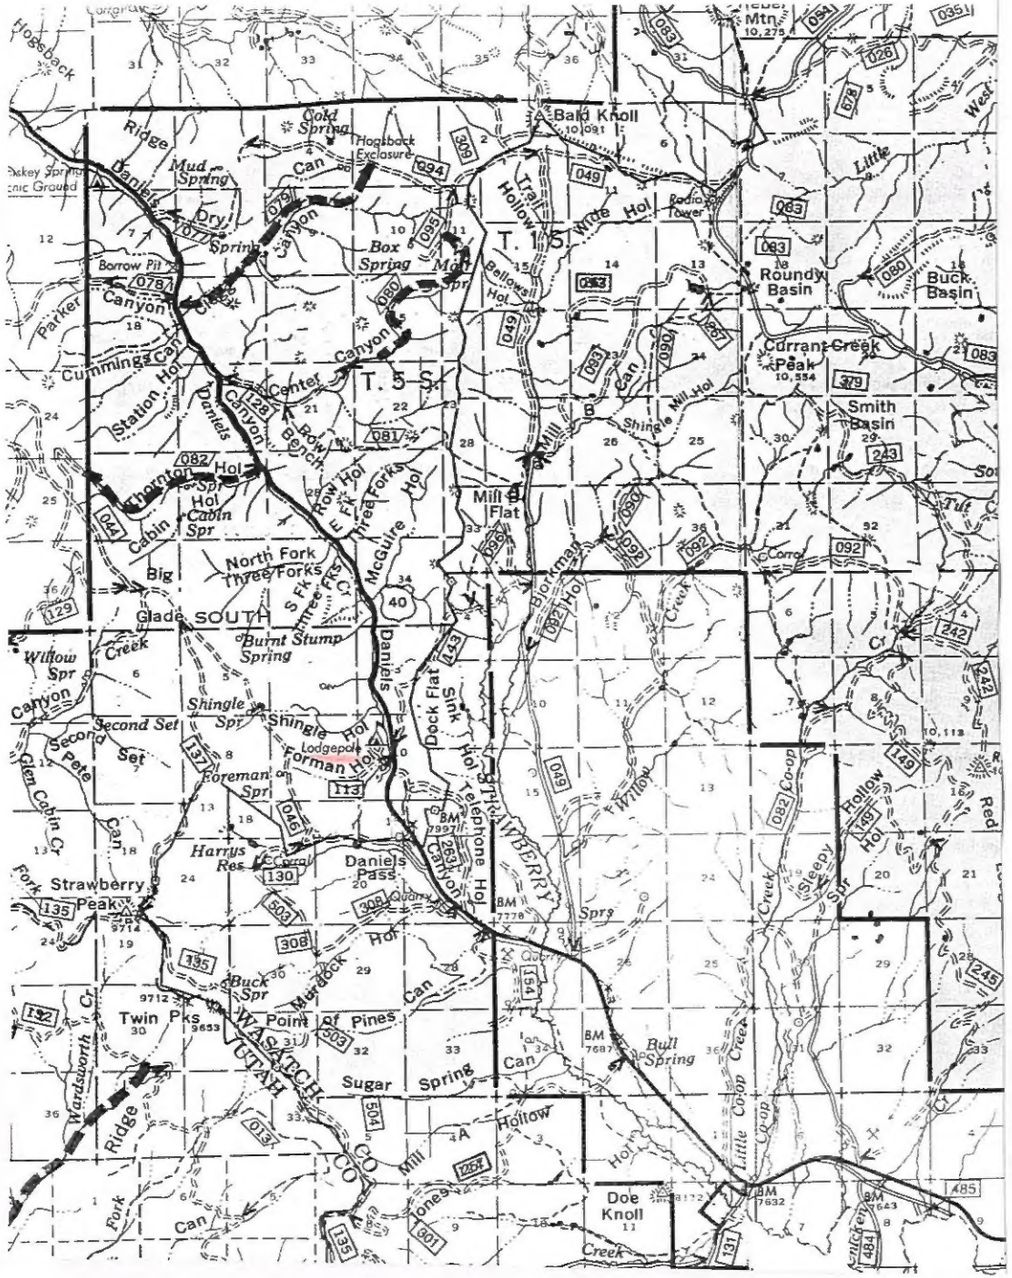
Government seeks operator for Lodgepole Campground

PROVO — The Uinta National Forest is seeking a private business to operate the Lodgepole Campground in Daniels Canyon as a concession.

The operator will set and collect fees and maintain facilities within the the guidelines of a special use permit, according to Don Nebeker, forest supervisor.

Returns to the operator will come from collected fees and not from government payments, Nebeker said. A portion of the collected fees will be returned to the goverment to pay for the permit.

The Lodgepole Campground contains 51 units and is located on the Heber Ranger District 16 miles southeast of Heber City on U.S. 40.


A prospectus for the campground is available and bids will close April 23. For a prospectus, interested parties should write to Forest Supervisor, Uinta National Forest, P.O. Box 1428, Provo, Utah 84603. Information may also be obtained by calling 377-5780.
